

*****high-res photos available upon request*****

CALENDAR LISTING

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

For more information, please contact:
Adrian McCarthy, 503 222 9091 x 30
adrian@thefreshwatertrust.org www.freshwatertrust.org

Under One Sky, Along One Stream

Event Sponsors:

The Freshwater Trust
Chintimini Wildlife Center
Long Tom Watershed Council
Marys River Watershed Council
Benton Soil and Water
Conservation District
MidCoast Watersheds Council
Sierra Club The Marys Peak Group
Oregon State University Extension
Oregon State University
Ethnic Studies Department
Earth Design Consultants
American Hiking Society
State Farm Insurance
Institute for Applied Ecology
Marys Peak Natural Resources
Interpretive Center
River Design Group
Science Education Partnerships
City of Corvallis Public Works
Corvallis School District
Northwest Youth Corps
TT Strategic Media
Freshwaters Illustrated
Willamette Watersheds Productions
Oregon State University
Native American Longhouse
Peace Corps
Philomath School District
The Rocky Mountain Elk Foundation
MidWillamette Flyfishers

April 3, 2009 – Corvallis, Ore. – Join The Freshwater Trust in an Earth Day/Week event that celebrates the freshwater that sustains our communities, people and environment. The evening will acknowledge community collaborators and highlight the importance of working together to tackle freshwater health challenges.

The evening includes:

- Sneak preview of a forthcoming documentary film on stream restoration in Oregon, produced by The Freshwater Trust and Jeremy Monroe of Freshwaters Illustrated
- Slide show presentation, “Rivers of America,” about the health of our nation’s freshwater ecosystems by Tim Palmer, an award-winning author and one of Paddler Magazine’s “100 paddlers of the century”
- Sneak preview of the film “Oak Creek: Forests, Farms and Football – the Journey of an Ancient Stream” by Corvallis filmmaker Dave Eckert
- Presentation, “An International Perspective on Water,” by Peace Corps volunteers Adam Moreno and Angela Mallon
- Performance by rock and blues singer Star Nayea, 2006 Grammy Award Recipient and 2008 Native American Music Awards Songwriter of the Year

What: A celebration of rivers and streams, in honor of Earth Day, with short films, presentations and music.

Who: The celebration is presented by The Freshwater Trust and its community partners.

When: Friday, April 17, 2009, 6:30-10:00pm. Doors open at 6:15pm.
6:30 – Opening ceremony, Eugene Black Bear Sr.; song by Star Nayea
6:55 – Sneak preview of documentary film on stream restoration produced by The Freshwater Trust and Freshwaters Illustrated
7:15 – Slide show presentation, “Rivers of America,” by Tim Palmer
8:15 – Sneak preview of Dave Eckert’s film, “Oak Creek: Forests, Farms and Football – The Journey of an Ancient Stream”
8:30 – Presentation, “International Perspective on Water,” by Adam Moreno and Angela Mallon
8:40 – Musical performance by Star Nayea
9:30 – Networking; book signing with Tim Palmer

Where: LaSells Stewart Center, Oregon State University
875 SW 26th Street
Corvallis, Oregon 97331-3101

Tickets: Suggested donation $5.00-$10.00 at the door.

###